In spite of the fact that the campaign is over the REGISTER is adding new names to its list nearly every day. It comes at $1.50 a year, but the people will have it.
The good news from the Supreme Court was all the talk on the streets Tuesday, and everybody hailed it as the beginning of a new era of prosperity for Allen county.
Every man who owns 100 acres of land in Allen county, can put $200 to $300 to his credit, for he is that much better off than he was before the Supreme Court was heard from.
Gov. Martin has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation. The self denial practiced in refraining from saying anything about his 40,000 majority, cannot be too highly commended.
The "land troubles" are now a thing of the past. The burden is taken from our backs. Now let us all pull together to build up Allen county. We ought to add 5,000 to our population the next year.
Those who are in the habit of dabbling in politics would do well to cut out the table giving the official vote of Allen county, published in this issue. It will furnish good data to figure from next year.
We are requested to announce that the ceremony of the ordination of deacons will take place at the Baptist church a week from next Sunday. Ministers from abroad will be present and the services will doubtless be full of interest.
If Mr. Blake will kindly forward those heavy rains that he promised us for November he will place his Allen county disciples under many obligations. And he can't forward them any to soon either.
The reversal of the Brewer decision means, among other things, a saving to Allen county of hundreds of dollars of court costs every year. That is it will mean that if the Leaguers submit, like good citizens, to the inevitable.
Mrs. J. S. Turner has received her goods and is now prepared to show a large stock of the tastiest and most stylish line of millinery articles. She also does dressmaking, stamping etc., and promises satisfaction in work and price.
A party of young people took possession of the band stand last Saturday evening and serenaded the town at large for a half hour or more. The REGISTER, for one, enjoyed the music thoroughly and hopes it will be repeated.
The Baptist Ladies request us to remind the people that they will give a dinner, supper and evening entertainment at the Opera House on Thanksgiving day. Program and more extended announcement will be given next week.
Rev. W. H. Hyatt will begin next Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church a series of five lectures to young people, on words beginning with "C—" "Caution," "Culture," "Character," "Charity," "Christ." All are cordially invited to attend.
H. D. Smith told us Tuesday that he would advise the Leaguers to drop the fight now, and make the best terms they could with the owners of the land. He could not give them better advice, and it will be money in their pockets if they follow it.
Since the defeat of the Prohibition party an instant decision is given in favor of the "Monitor Oak" as a heater by all who have seen the convenience of its arrangement, the solidity of its build and its beautiful appearance, on Sale at The Live Hardware.
Our appeal to delinquent subscribers has met with a very satisfactory response so far. We hope the good work will continue. Our office hours are from seven a. m. till six p. m. and we are never too busy to receive visitors who call on a financial errand—particularly if the finances are coming to us.
Mrs. Simpson's has always been quarters for millinery goods, and remains so this year as usual. She received her fall stock and now of some most attractive goods at very low prices. Ladies will do themselves injustice if they buy anywhere else before examining Mrs. Simpson's goods.
It is a little unkind to kick a man when he is down, but we cannot resist the temptation to ask Smith to let us have just one glance at those "private dispatches" on the strength of which he rode through Elmore a day or two before election telling the Leaguers that the land question had been decided in their favor and they must all vote for Robinson.

Klammann sells 16 pounds of light brown sugar for $1.

Two years ago the Legislature of Illinois was a tie on joint ballot. In the Legislature elected this year the republicans will have a majority of 16 on joint ballot. The state ticket was elected this year by a majority of 33,000—a gain of 5,000 over the vote of 1894. Besides this the republicans have gained four congressmen. It is an off year indeed—away off for the democrats.
The death of Mrs. Samuel J. Jordan, of Carlyle township, occurred on Tuesday night. The deceased has been suffering for a long time from consumption and her death, though sincerely mourned by all who knew her, was not unexpected. The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at this place at 11 o'clock yesterday, and the remains were interred in the Iola cemetery.
The County Clerk, Treasurer and Probate Judge have moved their respective offices this week as noted on our last issue. Mr. Duffy took up stairs into the County Clerk's office, formerly occupied by Mr. Jacoby. Mr. Hays and going into the old Probate Judge's office, and Judge Allison moving in with the County Superintendent. The old south wall may now fall at its own sweet will and we'll be gay and happy still, or words to that effect.
From all over the county—and all over the State as well—come reports of cattle dying from feeding in corn fields. This is unpleasant news for it is a mighty bad way to get rid of cattle. The opinion of those competent to judge is that stock can only be returned with safety into corn fields when they get plenty of water and salt. When water is as scarce as it is this year there are few instances in which the experiment may be tried with profit.
The Southern Kas. is laying steel rails over its road bed through the county this week. The business of this road has increased so much with the extension of its various branches that it has been obliged to add largely to its rolling stock. The new stock includes ten first class Schenck passenger engines, ten Baldwin switch engines, ten first class Pullman coaches, five second class coaches, eight express cars, fifteen cabooses, 300 box, 300 stock and 250 coal cars.
We met this week a gentleman who was in Washington last spring when H. D. Smith visited that city in behalf of the Leaguers. This gentleman happened to be present at the White House when Mr. Smith called on the President to lay the matter before him, and describes the interview that took place as follows:
Smith. (Trembling violently) Mr. President, there's going to be another war! And it's going to be in Allen county!
The President. (Smiling and handing cordially) Good day, Mr. Smith, good day!
The following is a section of the law on our statute books relating to the use of mixed tickets. We call the special attention of our democratic brethren to it.
Sec. 218, Chap. 32. Any person who designs to give a printed or written ticket to any qualified voter of this state, containing the written or printed names of persons for whom said voter does not intend to vote, for the purpose of causing the voter to poll his vote contrary to his own wishes, shall on conviction, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.
The REGISTER and its editor have been the objects of a large amount of gratuitous abuse during the past two or three weeks, from certain officious persons who have found leisure, after attending to their own business, to devote considerable time to ours. We are sorry this is so, but we must yet admit that the grief we suffer in having incurred the opposition of these gentlemen, is considerably tempered by a feeling of gratitude that they did not take it into their heads to espouse our cause. There is some compensation for nearly every affliction.
The people of Allen county may now rest easy, the question of the title to the railroad land in this county having been settled by the supreme court, which holds that the purchasers of the lands from the Southern Kansas railroad have good titles, and that the squatters are without right in law or equity. The decision is a righteous one. Congress may have been wrong in granting the land in the first place, but upon no shadow of a right could the innocent settlers upon or purchasers of these lands be ejected from their holdings. —Fort Scott Monitor.
Gentlemen from Humboldt informed us that the grossest irregularities marked the count of the vote in that city from beginning to end. The first and lawful set of clerks got "tired" early in the evening of election day and their places were filled by others who were not sworn. They got "tired" also and another set took the ballots and books without being sworn. And it was dark on Wednesday before the count was finally finished. There is no evidence that the vote was not correctly counted, but it must be seen that there was no lack of opportunity for fraud, and the judges who permitted such irregularities should be severely reprimanded.
We saw in the daily papers last week a dispatch stating that silver in paying quantities had been discovered near Caldwell, Kansas. As such reports appear frequently in the papers only to be contradicted the next day, we paid but little attention to it. It appears, however, from later advices, that they have really found silver there in large quantities. Assays of the ore show as high as 340 ounces to the ton, which is very rich. Two car loads of it have been shipped to the smelter, and when the returns are in from them we will know to a certainty whether or not we have a silver mine in Kansas. In the meantime the country around Caldwell is all a-quiver with excitement.

PERSONAL.

Sheriff Brown went to Kansas City on private business the first of the week.
Mr. Chas. Booth and Mr. Martin, from near Benton, investigated the REGISTER office Monday.
A. C. Scott left Monday for the western part of the State on business for the Southern Kansas Investment Company.
Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McClure have gone to Ottawa for a month's visit with their daughter, Mrs. D. O. McAlister.
Mr. W. A. McCoy and wife came in from Greenwood county the first of the week. Mrs. McCoy will spend most of the winter in town.
Mr. Nicholai and family removed this week to Fort Scott where they will reside. They leave many friends in Iola who will follow them with best wishes.

L. W. Keplinger is in court this week.

It is needless to say that he rejoices mightily over the Supreme Court decision, for it is always pleasant to say "I told you so."
H. C. Hadley, claim agent for the Wichita road, and Dr. Kohn of Eldorado, physician for the same road, have been in town this week in attendance upon the Rotermund damage trial.
Mr. J. B. Martin, for many years a resident of Deer Creek township, called on us Monday to have the address of his Rotermund changed to Coffeyville to which place he is removing with his family. We are sorry to see him leave Allen county, but wish him prosperity in his new home.
Ann Jones, W. A. Scott and John Richardson started yesterday morning in a wagon for the Indian Territory. They will be joined at Arkansas City by Oscar Foust and A. C. Scott and the entire party will spend a week or ten days hunting in the Territory. They take tent, cooking utensils, and an arsenal of fire arms and are counting on having a large time.
In another place will be found a notice of public sale of personal property by Mr. J. J. Black, of Geneva town, Kan. Mr. Black expects to start soon to California to enter the employ of Robt. Kella, formerly of this county, who has "struck it rich" in rather an unusual manner. Several years ago Mr. Kella went to California, a poor man. He entered the employ of an old man who was the owner of a large fruit farm near Sacramento. The man was an invalid and Mr. Kella and his wife (formerly Miss Hattie Luyster) so endeared themselves to him that upon his death three or four months ago he willed them all his property, amounting to near $50,000.

GLORY HALLELUJAH!

The Land Question Settled at Last And Settled Right!
BREWER'S DECISION REVERSED
The Supreme Court Decided that the Railroad Title to the Odd Sections is Perfect.
Tuesday's daily papers contained the following dispatch:
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.
The decision in the case of the Kansas City, Lawrence & Southern Kansas Railroad company, appellant, against Benjamin Brewer, attorney general in behalf of the United States, was delivered. The original suit, brought by the Attorney General, was to set aside certain instruments in writing which conveyed title from the United States to a quantity of land in eastern Kansas. Congress had granted the lands in 1896 to the state of Kansas to aid in the construction of a railroad through the Neosho Valley from Fort Riley to the southern state line, and the act contained the usual "indemnity" provision, to the effect that lands other than those specified in the grant should be given to the company in place of any specified lands which might then be taken under the homestead and pre-emption laws prior to the location of the road. Under this act the road was built and in due time the claim was made for indemnity lands, which claim was recognized by the interior department and lands certified to the state for the company. The validity of the certification by the interior department and patented to the state by the company was attacked on the ground that by the act of March 3, 1893, and supplementary act July 1, 1894, the lands became appropriated to building another road through the same region. It was maintained that these grants prevented the company from realizing the bounty from congress because there is in the act of 1896 an express reservation of any lands granted previously for railroad purposes. This view was sustained by the circuit court, but the supreme court find that these grants intended by the act of 1896 to unify all the acts on the subject into one grant. The decree of the circuit court is reversed and the case remanded with instructions to dismiss the bill. The opinion was delivered by Justice Miller.
That dispatch brings the best news to Allen county that it has heard for many years. It tells us that after long and weary waiting the troubles that have cursed the county are finally settled, absolutely settled. True this decision applies only to the odd sections in the indemnity limit, but it has always been conceded that if the settlers could not win these lands there was no possible show for them to win any others. The suit on the even sections that was ordered some time ago has not yet been entered on the docket, and the probability now is that it will never come to trial, as there can be no possible question that the result would be to confirm the railroad title. So it is ended and the long fight is over.
And the satisfaction with which the REGISTER makes this announcement is not lessened by the fact that it bears with it a complete and triumphant vindication of the course this paper has taken on the question ever since it has been under its present management. For four years we have maintained in season and out of season that the men who bought railroad land in this county would lose nothing. We have told the Leaguers that they were fighting a fight that was bound to lose, and we advised them long ago to give it up and buy their lands. For this advice, which was honestly given, we have been repaid only with their bitterest enmity.
But we can afford now to be magnanimous. The question has been decided by the highest court in the land and the decision is against the Leaguers. The only sensible and patriotic thing for them to do now is to accept the situation, buy the land they are on if they can, or give possession quietly to the rightful owner. Of course if they choose they can continue the fight and compel the owner to appeal to the law. But we trust they will not prolong the struggle. They have always protested that they would submit without a murmur to the decree of the Supreme Court. That decree has come, and we most earnestly hope that they will make their protestations good, by settling down, buying or renting their own homes and becoming good, law-abiding citizens.
We hope also that every one of them will call on us the first time they come to town and seal the treaty of peace by subscribing for the paper, and the only paper, that has always told them the truth.
